COACHING FIRM LAUNCHES FIND CAREER ANSWERS.COM

TRUMBULL, CT, SEPTEMBER 10, 2008: Gifts Ordained by Direction is elated to announce the launch of Career Answers.com by publishing the Is it the job, the boss, you . . . or are you an entrepreneur? Find your career stressors and the success God intends guidebook.

The author Karen M. Pina is an entrepreneur, trainer, leadership coach, university-level educator, ordained minister, and community leader.

This guidebook will arm you to: interview with grace, wisdom, and ease, rightly evaluate the job offer, come out of the annual performance appraisal a winner, explore new occupations and positions, uncover what's up the road in your career, outline entrepreneurial traits, establish the business structure that is right for you, master tax strategy wisdom, and keep the entrepreneurial juices flowing.

Karen wrote this book to see you arrive at your career destination and God-given success sooner rather than later. "It took me 20+ years of fumbling around in Corporate America. God knows I don't want the same for you. If I can help you get there with less stress in half the time with the right tools and attitude, then allowing God to use me to write this book was worth it," said Karen M. Pina, the author.

The book is available in printed and e-book format. A book preview launch call is being held on Thursday, September 18, 2008 from 7-7:30 pm. The preview call is likened to a mini-infomercial allowing you to explore the benefits you'll receive from the book prior to purchasing it and also allows you to receive answers to any questions you may have. To register for the preview call see the information below. Karen will also virtually tour various Christian-based blogs sharing information about the book. If you would like Karen to tour your blog and share this fabulous resource, contact her at the information provided above.

Here is what one reader says:

"This book delivers: I was looking for answers and here they are! The title of the book caught my eye. It is thought provoking, and by the time you are finished reading this book you will have the answer to the question found in the title. I discovered I'm an entrepreneur. This book has prepared me for something greater and will be used as my business guide. I am pleased with its thoroughness and resourcefulness. Is it the job, the boss, you . . . or are you an entrepreneur? is very on time for Christians living in a world of such uncertainty where spiritual warfare is at an all time high and where workplace politics are used to shackle believers and deceive us out of being who we were created to be. I'm ready to minister, not just in church, but in my everyday life through my occupation." - Suzette Jackson
